ACTIVITY TITLE: SMILE for HIs: Parenting Seminar

“Understanding and Helping Children to Reach Their Optimum Potentials”

Venue:	3rd floor, SLSU Library	Date Conducted:	October 20, 2016
Time Started:	12:30 pm	Time Ended:	5:30 pm

A. Rationale/ Background of Activity

The SMILE for HIs Extension Project is an institutionalized community program spearheaded by the College of Arts and Sciences, AB Psychology Program in partnership with the Provincial Social Welfare and Development in coordination with the Municipal Social Welfare and Development Offices of Lucban and Mauban, Quezon in line of the existing memorandum of agreement between two municipalities. This is a seminar-type of activity which dwells on the topics on the role of parents in building confidence among children and the importance of parental involvement in educating a child. This included learning sessions facilitated by faculty members of the AB Psychology program whose expertise are in line with the nature of the activity and the objective of the program. The participants of the seminar are parents of the Hearing Impaired students (HIs) under the technical skills education courses of the same program. This complements the personality development workshop for the HIs

B. Objectives

This activity aims to:

1. Develop and hone the parenting skills leaning towards responsible parenthood;
2. Teach the parents how to build confidence and psychosocial support for their children in preparation with their technical-vocational trainings;
3. Inculcate among the parents their important roles in the lives and success of their children in their aspirations in life; and
4. Discuss the importance of parental involvement in educating a child.

F. Highlights and Summary of Outputs (Descriptive Report)

The seminar commence right after lunch. As early as 12:30 the roll call of participants was done. Mr. Gino A. Cabrera mentioned the objectives of the activity and the expected outcomes. The seminar-proper started off with the introduction of the first speaker, Dr. Mari Jane Anglo-Lee, Dean of College of Arts and Sciences. Dr. Lee asked the parents regarding their ways of communicating with their children and how they interact as a family. One parents narrated “Three years old nung mapansin kong may kakaiba sa kanya, hindi siya nagre-respond pag tinatawag ko ang pangalan niya”. Majority of the parents have no proper sign language schooling, they just communicate with them arbitrarily.

She also discussed on how to boost the self-esteem and self-confidence of a special child with hearing disabilities. She made mention that self-respect serve as a foundation along with respect of each family members to one another, another point she mentioned is that to keep their child happy, “Pag naging masaya ang anak, maganda ang patutunguhan pero may limit or boundaries din” she said.

After the talk with Dr. Lee, the parents are given a short working break before the second speaker start. Prof. Fides Joyce O. Llegado, head of Scholarship and Financial Assistance Office prepared an activity for the parents before she started her talk, each parent is asked to write the responsibility of a mother to a child in a meta card and told them to say it in front of others. After the activity, Prof. Llegado started her talk about how to build relationship not only for the mother and the child, but also for the family as a whole.

The parents participated with the talk of the two speakers, opened up some of their experiences and problems, some cried, and some listed down notes and tips.

The day was ended by the awarding of certificates to the participants and the facilitators.
